

Spring, 2009

Dear Opera Lover,

We are pleased to announce that we will once again be offering OPERA OUTINGS, a series of three Florentine Opera productions in Milwaukee.

This coming year's offerings include: Giacomo Puccini's great melodrama Tosca, Elmer Gantry by Robert Aldridge and Herschel Garfein based on the satire by American novelist Sinclair Lewis, and the season will conclude with the illustrious tragedy Rigoletto by Giuseppe Verdi. Our popular teacher and host, Carol Jegen, will once again preview the three operas and host the outings. Special pricing includes opera tickets, preview classes and round-trip coach bus transportation to the Sunday matinee performances at the Marcus Center for the Performing Arts in Milwaukee.

Once again, as an added "treat," we will be providing delicious goodies for the opera previews, which will be in Shattuck Hall Room 156 at the Lawrence Conservatory of Music on the Thursdays prior to the opera from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m.: November 19, 2009, March 18, 2010 and May 20, 2010. Opera performance dates are: Sundays, November 22, 2009, March 21, 2010 and May 23, 2010. Round-trip coach bus transportation to the Performing Arts Center in Milwaukee will leave at 11:30 a.m. on performance days and return around 7:00 p.m.

And the best news - PRICES ARE THE SAME!! with per person discounted cost of Opera Outings $195 for center rear loge seats, $240 for side orchestra seats, $265 for center front loge, or $300 per person for premium orchestra seats. Registration with payment is due Friday, April 24, 2009. We are currently holding the seats we had last season and have the ability to obtain more. Please note that as we must pay for the Florentine subscription when we place our order, the cost of the tickets is non-refundable. Also, for your convenience, the Academy of Music now accepts both VISA and MasterCard.

Whether you are a seasoned opera fan or relatively new to this beautiful, multifaceted art form, we guarantee you a theatre experience that you will not want to miss! Please talk it up amongst your friends as the more the merrier!!

Sincerely,

Fred R. Snyder, director
