Description:

Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit organization that specializes in building homes for families in need. Habitat strives to build simple, decent and affordable housing. Habitat houses are sold very cheaply to Habitat homeowners. Habitat homeowners must put in between 350 and 500 volunteer hours building their own house. Habitat also holds homeowner education classes which focus on finances and safety. The mission statement of Habitat for Humanity is to “seek to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness from the world and to make decent shelter a matter of conscience and action.”

Volunteer Opportunities

There are many volunteer opportunities at Habitat. First, students can volunteer to help with home construction. Individuals will help to build a simple, decent and affordable house for a much deserving family. Students can also volunteer to deconstruct home and businesses in order to salvage usable materials. Recycling used materials and reselling them at the Habitat ReStore creates a large profit base. Moreover, students can volunteer in numerous positions at the Habitat ReStore. Each and every day the ReStore needs at least six volunteers to help the store run smoothly. Lastly, there are many other opportunities throughout the year and will be advertised when they are to take place.

Qualifications/Requirements

There is no training necessary! If training is needed, Habitat will train volunteers. The only requirement is a short orientation which Habitat works to fit your schedule.
