43 M-D NEXT REUNION: OCTOBER 2010

BERNICE KREITZ ABRAHAMZON, Frederic, Wis., belongs to local and state writers clubs and is a charter member of the Northwest Regional Writer's Club. She has been writing a newspaper column for more than 30 years.

DORIS WOODRUFF BURGESS, West Allis, Wis., lives in a retirement center where she enjoys exercise classes, a reading group, and weekly weaving.

50 NEXT REUNION: 2010

JEAN EISS CASEY, Ellison Bay, Wis., gives Boynton Chapel tours at Björklunden, Lawrence's "wonderful northern campus."

JANET SPOTSWOOD DETERT, Howey in the Hills, Fla., enjoys living year-round in Florida. She has four grandchildren.

REV. RUSSELL R. ELLIS, Burlington, Vt., retired as headmaster of the Rock Point School in Burlington in 1992. He has been on the Burlington City Council for five years.

JANET TIPPET GOLDSMITH, Milwaukee, enjoys painting watercolors and pastels, maintaining her Spanish, and spending time at her time-share in Mazatlán, Mexico.

DAVID C. GUSTMAN, Tequesta, Fla., spends most of the year in Florida and 3½ months in Menominee, Mich. He enjoys golf and travel.

A. JACK HAFNER and Joan Spickard Hafner '51, Madison, Wis., wrote, "After 29 years of many varied experiences and much enjoyment, the appropriate time had finally arrived for Joan and I to make our 'exit' from our lake home in northern Wisconsin. Accordingly, we are now comfortably settled back into our townhouse in Madison, Wis., for our year-round living. We enjoy periodically visiting Lawrence where our granddaughter is now a junior!"

51 NEXT REUNION: 2011

WILLIAM L. GUERIN and Kay Milnamow Guerin '53, Baraboo, Wis., wrote, "We sold our sailboat and traveled to South America last year. This spring, the Guerin family reunion was held at Pelican Lake, Minn. Lots of golf was played and jet boating was done with squealing grandchildren hanging on."

JOHN C. SAVAGE, Sarasota, Fla., enjoys annual trips to Germany and Ireland as well as summer visits to Wisconsin.

CAROLYN INGHAM STERN, St. Louis, wrote, "This past year was another year of interesting and enjoyable travel for us. We spent time in Sedona, attended an Elderhostel on St. Simon Island and Savannah, toured eastern Canada with the Kortenhofs, cruised Alaska and the Volga in Russia, and attended a conference in St. Petersburg, Russia. In July the Stern clan gathered in Nashville to celebrate our youngest's 50th birthday. We are very thankful for our many good fortunes."

56 NEXT REUNION: 2011

JOAN TIMMERMANN ANDERSON, Muncie, Ind., spent seven weeks this summer in Door County, which included a visit to Björklunden. She enjoys volunteer activities, many of which involve events at Ball State University.

57 NEXT REUNION: 2012

FRANK W. COLE, Barrington, Ill., is an elder in the Presbyterian Church, where he sings in the choir, serves on committees, and participates in mission trips to the Dominican Republic and Romania. He and his wife have traveled to France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Italy, England, and Cyprus. He has 10 grandchildren and enjoys playing the recorder, model railroading, and reading.

M. JOHN DYRUD, Wilmette, Ill., recently traveled to France and Sarasota, Fla., with his wife, Suzy. He is active in genealogy organizations, Sons of the American Revolution, and The Society of Colonial Wars.

CELIA NIESSEN HUNT, San Marino, Calif., wrote, "When Lawrence's Class of 1957 was celebrating its 50th anniversary, we were celebrating our 50th wedding anniversary. Hope we both can celebrate many more!"

NANCY SEIDEL JOHNSON, Grayslake, Ill., wrote she is "Enjoying being a septuagenarian with my spouse of 47 years and blessed to be near our three children, their spouses, and our seven grandchildren. Life is good!"

ROGER W. LALK, Parrish, Fla., celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary on June 28, 2008. He spends the winter in Florida where he directs the chorus in his retirement park.

JAMES L. PARKER, Appleton, Wis., is active in two nonprofit organizations: Big Brothers Big Sisters (board member, fund-raiser) and Habitat for Humanity (senior construction crew).

CARY MAYER PRATT and GEORGE N. PRATT, Hernando, Fla., recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Cary wrote, "George surprised me and we traveled for two months to Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, and Hawaii — and that was worth waiting for! We are alive and well in sunny Florida doing all the fun things oldies (but goodies) do."

ROBERT EGELAND PURVES, Sturgeon Bay, Wis., retired in 1988 as an Air Force Colonel after a 31-year career. He then spent 18 years with Travis Credit Union in Vacaville, Calif., retiring as an assistant vice president for corporate relations. He and his wife Beverly moved from Vacaville to Sturgeon Bay where they built a new home on lakefront property that his father had purchased in 1937.

MARILYN SEKUS ROWLAND, Modesto, Calif., enjoys travel, book clubs, volunteering, and the Red Hat Society. She and her husband, Chuck, bike about 1,500 miles a year.

EDWARD B. SMITH, Verona, Italy, is teaching harpsichord, organ, and baroque vocal literature at the Scuola di Musica Antica, Venice and Europeo, Barocco, Sacile. He is collaborating on a new edition of the complete works of Geminiani for the Bolognese publisher Ut Orpheus with Christopher Hogwood. He gave recitals in Syracuse, N.Y., Bennington, Vt., and Treviso, Italy.

MARY MATENAER STARR, West Bend, Wis., wrote, "I just got home from visiting Thailand, Myanmar, and Laos. A true adventure. Finally got to ride an elephant, hike the mountain trails to villages of hill tribes, ride a bamboo raft down a river, and eat exotic foods. I loved every minute of the exhausting schedule."

58 M-D NEXT REUNION: OCTOBER 2010

MARY SMILANICH BATINICH, Tower, Minn., has a home in northern Minnesota on Lake Vermilion, a condo in Minneapolis, and a winter home in Sun City, Ariz. She is active in community affairs and is on the board of Children's Surgery International where she coordinates cleft palate and lip missions to Peru and other countries. She was a 15-year founding trustee of Minneapolis Children's Hospital and said she "put her occupational therapy training to good use during that tenure." She had an educational tour agency for 30 years where she led tours all over the world.

59 NEXT REUNION: JUNE 19-21, 2009

ROBERT D. HEIDORN, Janesville, Wis., plans to take a University of Illinois alumni cruise in the Adriatic to Dubrovnik and the Greek Islands.

JOAN NELSON MEGINNISS, Estero, Fla., retired from teaching in the Adult Education Department at the College of Lake County in Grayslake Ill., however, she still teaches an online class.

74 NEXT REUNION: 2010

SARAH S. LARSON, Cambridge, Mass., is pursuing an M.Div. at the Episcopal Divinity School and hopes to be recommended for ordination in two years. She wrote, "My goal is to continue my somewhat odd life as both a scholar and an activist in the areas of immigration, community building, and neighborhood revitalization. My hope is that adding the layer of faith will both make my work more sustaining and speak to the utter loneliness and dislocation that people in upheaval experience."

KATHY NEWLIN PEDERSEN, Sheboygan, Wis., has been operating a private piano studio in Sheboygan since 1992. This fall she became an associate lecturer in applied music at the University of Wisconsin-Sheboygan, as well as accompanist for the Lakeshore Chorale, an auditioned community chorus in Sheboygan County. She is also the organist of Zion Evangelical Covenant Church in Sheboygan.

ANNE RUPERT LAMPS, Champlin, Minn., wrote, "We ended our four year stint in China as of July and have taken up residence in Champlin. We are enjoying the blue skies, green grass, good healthcare, safe food, and hope to stay a long time!"

LEWIS E. WINKLER, Singapore, just finished his Ph.D. (with distinction) in systematic theology from Fuller Theological Seminary. He is still with Campus Crusade for Christ (since 1987) and has been living and teaching in Singapore for the past two years at the East Asia School of Theology. In addition, he is dean of administration and registrar at the school and helping to plan a new church in Singapore. He and his wife, Barbara, have been married since 1990 and have three children, Bethany (16), Joshua (14), and Christine (12).

89 NEXT REUNION: JUNE 19-21, 2009

JEFFREY W. SCHANG, Appleton, Wis., is a project manager at CDW-Berbee in Appleton. He is married to Karen Hoffmann '87. They have three children, Kayla (9), Dylan (7), and Cameron (1).

93 NEXT REUNION: 2012

ELISE S. BRUNELLE, Capetown, South Africa, works as the financial manager of Cape Town Opera. She wrote, "I'm married to a Joburger, Jeremy, and we have a great daughter, Madeleine, who turned two in December. We do our best to travel as much as possible, and welcome any Lawrentians to the tip of the African continent!"

KRISTIN L. MEKEEL, Scottsdale, Ariz., is a surgeon specializing in hepatobiliary and transplant surgery (liver, kidney, and pancreas) at the Mayo Clinic in Phoenix.

94 NEXT REUNION: 2010

JOSHUA A. BLAKELY, Wauwatosa, Wis., wrote, "It's been a busy couple of years for me. I met and married my wonderful wife Ann and together we welcomed our daughter, Adah, to this world earlier this year. Less than a month after Adah's birth we moved into a new home, which we love. On the work front, I left the big firm and started a new firm with a classmate from law school. As part of that, I changed focus from business bankruptcy law to estate planning and corporate law."

KATHLEEN METZGER NEWMYER, Mosca, Colo., started her third year teaching band and music at Center Schools in Center, Colo., a tiny, mostly Hispanic school district in a farming and migrant community. She and her husband, Daniel, have two children, Andrew (3), and Chloe (1). This past summer she completed three triathlons, the Center Parks & Recreation Beginner & Novice Sprint Triathlon, the Durango Parks & Rec Sprint Triathlon, and the Salida Tenderfoot Olympic Distance Triathlon.

JENNIFER HILLBRICK O'CONNOR, Cedarburg, Wis., wrote, "I'm still singing, mostly in churches across the country. I love calling Cedarburg my home. My latest adventure is having a kid starting the preschool/school world and learning how to be a parent of a student instead of a teacher to the student. I taught in public school for nine years before spending 18 months as a resident of Bismarck, N.D. Thankfully, we have returned to the Milwaukee area and feel quite at home."

RENEE L. ULMAN, Appleton, Wis., teaches art at Appleton North High School. Last year, she started teaching a new design curriculum at a charter school housed in North called the Appleton Career Academy. She also teaches an art education course every Spring Term at Lawrence. She and her husband, Chad, have two daughters, Sophie (6), and Georgia (3). They live in a 100+ year old Victorian that they continue to renovate.

Baskinger is the director of early childhood music programs. She also teaches class piano, private piano lessons, and early childhood music programs.

THOMAS E. CLOWES, Tucson, Ariz., is playing his sixth season with the Tucson Symphony. He wrote, "Life is happy and pretty uneventful here with my wife Kristin and me. I still try to go to Haiti every summer for the music camp that Professor Janet Anthony first brought me to years ago."

ELENA H. DOUCET-BEER, Madison, Wis., moved to Madison in August to begin a Ph.D. program in zoology with a focus on avian and wetland ecology. Her research will center on the ecology of the Black-necked Crane, which is native to Tibet and southwest China. She is currently learning Chinese and will travel to Yunnan Province next summer (2009) to begin her research.

KELLY L. FOWLER, Davenport, Iowa, is director of music therapy services for the largest employer of music therapists in the state of Iowa. She wrote, "I am now in charge of three locations and 10 employees. Luckily, I still get to keep a few clients so I do not go crazy sitting behind a desk! In the past year I also sold my first house and bought a 'new' house with my boyfriend Kevin. We are slowly making those fun home improvements that will eventually make the house 'ours.'"

KOLIN J. GOLCHERT, Greenfield, Wis., is a physics and physical science teacher in Rhinelander, Wis. He wrote, "I have been battling a rare form of lymphoma since October, 2006. I have been through lots of chemotherapy, one major surgery, and a stem-cell transplant. I will hopefully return to work sometime in January, 2009. Other than that, life is great."

ALISON B. HAYES, Red Bank, N.J., is the GIS coordinator for Essex County College, does training work for Digital Quest (creator of the training program she teaches at Essex), and runs her own company, Geographic Magic. She is considering going to graduate school at Milano The New School for Management and Urban Policy in New York City.

JASON S. KRUMHOLZ, North Kingstown, R.I., is working on his Ph.D. in oceanography, studying coral transplantation techniques.

DOMINIQUE P. MARTIN, and Monica Blacconeri '02, Chicago. Dominique wrote that she "is teaching all chorus classes this year at Taft High School in Chicago and I am excited to have the opportunity to bring back the Taft Women's Chorale for our first concert season in years! Monica is teaching K-5 elementary general music at Oakton Elementary School in Evanston., Ill."

SARA BENJAMIN QUAM, Andover, Minn., is the operations and logistics manager for a stuffed animal company called Animal Adventure, Inc. She and her husband, Erik, have two daughters.

CARA PETERSON RIEK, Hereford, Ariz., is enrolled in nursing school. Before that she was a high school math teacher. She and her husband, Brian D. Riek have a son, Benjamin.

NICHOLAS J. SODEMANN, Oregon, Wis., works as a hospital development specialist for the University of Wisconsin Hospital Organ Procurement Organization where he educates others about the importance of organ donation.

ELIZABETH K. SURLES, Champaign, Ill., is in her second year at the University of Illinois working toward a master's degree in musicology.

ELIZABETH GIMPEL YOUNG, Blue Hill, Maine, wrote, "I live with my husband Chris, our dachshunds, and our cockatiels. We met at the bank where we both still work — I'm a trust officer and he's a loan officer."

04 NEXT REUNION: 2014

LAUREL A. FRITZSCH, Topeka, Kan., is a museum curator at the Kansas State Historical Society.

ERICA L. MARSHALL, Chicago, is a law clerk for the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation. She represents the department as a 711 senior law student. She is currently a staff member of The John Marshall Law Review, having completed her legal comment, which she hopes will be published. During summer 2008, she was a judicial extern for Judge Patricia Mendoza of the Cook County juvenile justice division.

05 NEXT REUNION: 2011

ALEXANDER W. BEYER, Madison, Wis., is attending law school at UW-Madison.

ALISON A. VANDENBERG, Milwaukee, completed her M.F.A. in arts administration at Southern Utah University in May, 2008. After completing an internship at First Stage Children's Theater in Milwaukee, she was hired as the academy/education coordinator.
