

Lawrence University Policy

Drug-Free Campus

Introduction

Lawrence University is opposed to the illegal use of potentially dangerous drugs (i.e., non-prescription controlled substances which include hallucinogenic drugs, amphetamines, barbiturates, cocaine and its derivatives, narcotics, and any others controlled by legal authorities). The university expects its students and employees to obey the laws established and enforced by local, state, and federal agencies concerning the possession, use, or distribution of illegal drugs.

The university recognizes that the use of non-prescription controlled substances and alcohol can impair performance, whether it be academic or work-related, and maintains that the most effective means to deter the abuse of drugs and alcohol is through: (a) a continuing program of education emphasizing the facts about drugs and alcohol; (b) the availability on a non-punitive basis of support services (medical and personal counseling); and (c) a campus climate where personal influence deters drug abuse.

Students who need help in dealing with such problems are encouraged to seek help through the Health and Wellness Center or the Dean of Students office.

Employees who need help in dealing with such problems are encouraged to seek outside professional assistance either directly or through a supervisor or the Human Resources Office. In the absence of performance problems, an employee's conscientious efforts to discontinue the use or abuse of illegal controlled substances or alcohol will be encouraged and will not jeopardize the employee's job security or be noted in any personnel record. When performance problems result in disciplinary action, an employee's rehabilitation efforts will be encouraged but will not deter further disciplinary action if such problems continue.

Policies

The manufacture, sale, distribution, possession, or use of illegal and/or non-prescription controlled substances by students or employees is prohibited at any time:

- 1) in, on, or about the university campus and property;
- 2) at or as a part of any on-campus or off-campus, university- or student- or employee-sponsored activity; and
- 3) during the performance of one's duties as an employee;
- 4) with respect to off-duty conduct where such activities result in justifiable public discredit to the university or impair the credibility or ability of the employee to do his or her job at the university or result in the violation of or conviction of any federal, state, or local ordinance.

The university also is opposed to the illegal or irresponsible use of alcohol, and expects its students and employees to obey the university regulations and the local, state, and federal laws concerning the possession, use, or distribution of alcoholic substances.

With regard to students, possession, use, and distribution of alcoholic beverages to persons of legal age are permitted on the campus only by persons of legal age. Anyone distributing alcoholic beverages to a person not of legal age or any person not of legal age possessing or using alcoholic beverages is subject to disciplinary action by the university. More detailed regulations for students on distribution, possession, and use of alcohol may be found in the on-line Student Handbook.

With regard to employees, the university expects all faculty, staff, and student employees to report to work free of the influence of alcohol and at all times during the performance of their duties to refrain from the use of alcohol, except during those events where the serving of alcohol has been approved by the university.

As a condition of employment, employees must notify the university, in writing, of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five calendar days after such conviction.

Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken in response to violations of these policies, in compliance with local, state, and federal laws. Furthermore, the university is not a sanctuary protecting those who violate laws regulating the use of drugs or alcohol, and university officials will cooperate with legal authorities whenever necessary.

Sanctions

With regard to students, the university reserves the right to take action whenever it has reason to believe that the use, possession, sale, manufacture, or distribution of illegal drugs or alcohol adversely affects the life and/or academic performance of students or adversely affects or legally implicates others in the academic community. University action may take such forms as education, counseling, and referral to outside agencies, suspension, or expulsion. Any violations of the above regulations concerning alcohol should be brought to the attention of the Dean of Students and may be subject to action by the university Judicial Board.

With regard to employees, violations will result in disciplinary action up to and including suspension and termination of employment. Violations involving manufacture, sale, or distribution of controlled substances will result in termination of employment. The responsible use of alcohol at events approved by the university will not be considered a violation of the policy.

A summary of relevant local, state and federal laws, a summary of the health risks of controlled substances and alcohol, and a listing of some local sources of information, counseling, and treatment, are attached as a part of this communication.

Summary of Legal Sanctions Covering Alcohol and Controlled Substances

Under federal, state, and local laws, illegal uses of drugs and alcohol are serious crimes. Conviction can lead to imprisonment, fines, and assigned community service work. Courts do not lift prison sentences to allow convicted persons to attend college or continue their jobs. A felony conviction can prevent individuals from entering many fields of employment. Under federal and state law, persons convicted of possession of illegal controlled substances are ineligible for federal student grants and loans for up to one year after the first conviction and five years after the second.
