

Coach Gene Davis Memorial Scholarship

Roy E. "Gene" Davis (1929-2006) was born and raised in Monroe, WI. He served with the U.S. Marine Corps during the Korean Conflict. He married his childhood sweetheart, Margaret Ann Share in 1953. Gene graduated from UW La Crosse, where he was a three-sport athlete and received his master's degree from "The" Ohio State where he interned under Woody Hayes, a College Football Hall of Fame Coach. Gene began his teaching and coaching career at Cuba City High School in 1956 and then continued coaching and teaching at Lawrence University from 1956-1991. He coached swimming, cross country and track athletes for 35 years until his retirement. He was one of the first people to be inducted into the Lawrence University Hall of Fame in 1996. Gene was an avid handball and racquetball player and was a member of the Appleton Kiwanis. He believed in working hard and earning your way. He was committed and dedicated to Lawrence University, the students, and all Lawrence activities. He strived for fair play, sportsmanship and teamwork and took pride in his coaching and teaching. He expected respect and honesty from his students and also gave the same in return. This scholarship continues his legacy of commitment and caring for Lawrence students and their extracurricular endeavors.
