GUEST BIO

A native of Newman, Georgia, Natalia Warthen is a champion for new music-making, and has commissioned and premiered over thirty new works for saxophone with chamber ensembles. Natalia completed her MM degree at Northwestern this past June, and received her bachelor's at Michigan State University. In addition to her saxophone background, she has minors in entrepreneurship and innovation and in arts and cultural management.

We collectively acknowledge that Lawrence University is situated on the ancestral homelands of the Menominee and Ho-Chunk people.
